The Alumni of the Future
One short year ago a body of editors was presenting Middlebury with their volume of the Junior Class Kaleidoscope; in another short year another body of editors will be bringing their volume to the approval of their Alma Mater. We take our place in the marching years.

But before we go on, we wish to leave in this book some small token of our appreciation of the work of Middlebury's alumni in giving us our College, the College that has shaped us into men and women, the College we have grown to love and honor. Through this poor symbol we pledge ourselves to take up their work wherever they may be forced to leave it.

Middlebury College, in terms of Time, is perhaps not old. But Middlebury measured in terms of men's lives, is the mother of many of whom the world has been proud. She began her motherhood with some of the oldest of New England's educational institutions. She has sent one hundred twenty-six classes into life. And all this time her growth in size has been very slow, but very patient—for she chooses her youth before they enter rather than lose them before they go.

To us there seemed no way more apt to point out this slow, patient growth than by turning the pages of Time backward one hundred years. Then, Middlebury, an institution founded upon the highest of ideals, was already making herself felt as an educational force through the quality of students whom she was giving to the world. The passing of a century has done strange things to the conditions and means of living; it has changed society and customs, and now even threatens morals and the old traditions. But the standards by which Middlebury measures a man are still unchanged.

And for this, our heritage, we, the Class of 1928, write our indebtedness to the Class of 1828.

Junior Class History

MEN have died to make history. Our class has but to live. Such we have done, and shall continue to do. From the opening days of our verdant Freshman year the Class of 1928 has distinguished itself. Even on the night of our introduction to the north side of the hill—you remember, the rain party—we showed an inordinate desire to stick together. As institutors of the Freshman Frolic we surely deserve undying fame.

Our second annum gave to us new hope and courage. Athletic prowess found its reward and we also point with just pride to the large number of our members who have brought credit to the class by their work in other extra-curricular activities. The Hop was an unqualified success. Our social prestige was established. Then, too, as trainers of 1929 we certainly taught them how to play football.

And now, as we approach the end of our third year we have cause to feel still more proud of ourselves and our record. Already plans have been made for the finest Prom and Junior Week that the dear Alma Mater has ever seen. The best of luck is sure to follow a class with the spirit and ability which the Class of 1928 has been so fortunate as to possess.

Leahy, Cross, Hadley, Farbush
Charles Clarence Arnold
“Charley”
Newburyport, Mass.
Δ K E
Prepared at Newburyport High School
Frosh Football; Student Curriculum Committee (3); Varsity Track (1, 2, 3), “M” (2); Cross Country (1, 2), “M” (2); Fraternity Basketball (1, 2, 3); Sages; Kappa Phi Kappa.

“Who'll follow me over the heather?”
Here’s Charley, our boy. What a pace he sets those harriers from Williams and Vermont! What a chase he gives those of R. P. I.! The crowd is up, the tape is stretched, and here come Donald, Whiting, Witt—and making them all hump: Charley! He has been one of the Panther’s strongest sinews in track and cross country; the litheness of the big black pussy is well symbolized in 1928’s versatile cinder-path man. But varsity track and fraternity basketball are not his only features. There are other members of our class who have met Charley at the “gym” on Saturday evenings—and can he strut? Um-m-m!

Augustine Anastasis
Middlebury, Vt.
Prepared at Ekaterina, Greece
Glee Club (3).

“This man’s a man.”
“Anastas,” who came back to Middlebury this last fall with a new name—Augustine—is one of our Twenty-Eighters with a real purpose behind his seeking a diploma with us. Picking up learning here and there in Turkey-harried Greece, driven from his home by the unsettled conditions of wartime, boarding a steamship with but two items of Middlebury knowledge—one, that he was coming to Vermont, and two, that Dean Wiley was the man he sought—this courageous wanderer became one of us through sheer pluck. One day we shall hear good news of this classmate of ours.
"Benny"

When "Benny" was a little boy with us—only a Frosh, you know—the haughty powers that be, gave him a wild roomie in the person of Fritz Weiner—Fritz of great memory. Fritz was far too undependable a person for a roommate; and, or so we suspect, "Benny" caught some of his wildness from him. He took up smoking; he began going about the campus without a tie—but seriously, though, we doff our '28 hats to our classmate who could live down Fritz, scoff at the dubious, and become one of the mainstays of Middlebury's newest men's fraternities.

"Nap"

Napoleon has three claims upon fame: He can throw a football, throw a tray of hash, and throw the bull. His ability to run a broken field is another matter—there is no bull about that. Why he will not smoke has always remained a mystery; we imagine it is merely a habit of his to refuse cigarettes (perhaps so he won't have to return them). When you meet "Nap," give him the Hepburn soup-strainers' shake, ask for the folks at home—and offer him a Camel. Just!
Zenas Lee Bliss
"Zepps"
West Brattleboro, Vt.
Prepared at Middlebury High School
Frosh Football; Dramatic Club (1, 2); Economics Club (3).

"A Daniel come to judgment!"

We have never been able to figure out whether Zenas' nickname is a corruption of his own name or of the famous race horse who was so widely talked of a few years ago. It can hardly have any connection with the horse because Zenas is not a fellow that one could justly call "racy." In fact, his quietness is one of his dominant features until you come to know him, and only then will you realize what an asset he is to our class. As a member of the "Biblio" squad two years ago, he helped us gather canned knowledge for C. C. booklets which we scribbled in the library. Will he continue thus to serve his fellow men?

Henry Vail Brooks
"Joe"
Ardley-on-Hudson, N. Y.
ΔΚΕ
Prepared at Collegiate School
Vocational Committee (3); Junior Week (3); Track (1, 2, 3); Blue Baboon Board (1); Debating (3); Candidate Assistant Manager of Basketball (2).

"Inland I stood . . . and saw the coast of France."

"Well folks, when I was in Brittany—" No, no. It isn't Prexy at all. It's Joe. He's telling Billy Farrell about his tour of La France. Billy somehow avoided him all this time; can you imagine anyone escaping Joe's eagle eye, where it towers over the head of the passing throng? But you wait till Billy goes, and we'll introduce you to Joe—Harry Vail. You wouldn't guess, to glance at his tall form, that he can spread himself over one hundred yards in less time than it takes to write it, would you?
ABBOTT CECIL CARNEY
Los Angeles, Calif.

Prepared at Los Angeles Polytechnic Track (3); Fraternity Baseball (1, 2); Spanish Club (1, 2, 3); Dramatic Club (1, 2); Merrill Prize Speaker (1).

"And walked among the skies."

Abbott came to Midd as a member of the class of '27. Then he hied himself to the land of Sunkist oranges for a year. He has had quite a few of the knocks and enlightenments of the world, as one would concede after hearing him rave; his cosmopolitan wisdom contains relics from many corners between New York and California. But his sojourn West didn't hurt him much, and now he's back with that terrible gait of his to give 1928 another friend and classmate.

MALCOLM REID CARY
Salem, N. Y.

Δ Σ

Prepared at Salem Washington Academy Fraternity Baseball (2); Fraternity Basketball (3).

"A quiet, thoughtful mien."

It's impossible to find fault with Malcolm; it's almost as impossible to offer comment upon him, for he attends so strictly to his own business no one can find offense in his quietness. It took us nearly a year to become acquainted with him; it will take us many a year to forget him. For there is something so dependable about this chap one wouldn't want him more boisterous or lively. When the last roll-call of Twenty-Eight is taken, Malcolm's name will be among those who have achieved.
LEONARD FAYETTE CLARK
"Len"
Holyoke, Mass.
B K
Prepared at Springfield Central High School
Fraternity Baseball (1, 2); Fraternity Basketball (1, 2, 3); Cross Country Squad (1, 2, 3); Band (2, 3); Blue Baboon Board (3).
“A muckler brave lad, an unc’ good friend.”

And now, braving charges of triteness and sundry other dangers, we introduce a true scholar and gentleman: Clarkie. For all of his discreet silence, he has spoken well for the class in his work on and off the campus. Somehow he has escaped, thus far, falling victim to the blandishments of that jade Fortune; but with a tremendous capacity for work, an insatiate desire to help others, and personal property in the shape of a Ford, yclept “The Chariot,” he is well in line for the gain of glory, honors and other miseries. Until that time, we privileged few are proud to hail him “a jolly good fellow well met.”

HAROLD LUKE COLLINS
“Luke”
Milwaukee, Wis. A Σ Φ
Prepared at Washington High School
Frosh Basketball; Varsity Baseball (1, 2, 3); Basketball (2, 3); “M” (3); Fraternity Basketball (1); Fraternity Baseball (1); Class Golf Champion (1, 3); Spanish Club (1).
“Pass tha potatoes.”

Luke is another of Wisconsin’s fair sons, hailing from the well-known city of Milwaukee. Though he is an important figure on the baseball diamond and the basketball court, he can always find a little time for social purposes. Wherever you meet Luke, you meet his cheery smile and equally cordial “hello.” We wish there were more like you Luke, and best of luck to you.
PHILIP EDWARD DEMPSEY
“Phil,” “Demp”
Montpelier, Vt.

Prepared at Montpelier High School
Junior Prom Committee; Candidate Assistant Manager Hockey (2); Blue Baboon Board (1, 2, 3); Campus Board (1, 2), Advertising Manager (3); 1928 Kaleidoscope Board; Parker Prize Speaker.

“Phil” was quite a different boy when we entered Middlebury three years ago. At first he succumbed to the usual Freshman follies but since then his attainments have become bigger and better. Hailing from Montpelier, “Phil” is a staunch booster for the “Green Mountain State” and woe betide those who would take its name in vain. We have heard that storekeepers shudder at the mention of his name for since his Freshman year “Phil” has been after them for Campus and Blue Baboon ads.

WILLIAM KENNETH DONALD
“Bill”
Utica, N. Y.

Prepared at Vermont Academy
Sophomore Rules Committee; Junior Week Committee; Varsity Track “M” (1); Cross Country “M” (1, 2, 3); 880-yard College Record (1); Cross Country Record (5.6 miles) (1), Captain (3), Captain-elect; Secretary-Treasurer “M” Club (3); “Charlie’s Aunt”; Athletic Editor 1928 Kaleidoscope; Treasurer Undergraduate Association (3); Fraternity Basketball (1, 2, 3); Fraternity Track (1, 2, 3).

“What a mad pace he sets us!”

Cap’en Bill—meet him, friends! The chap in the long-sleeved blue jersey—the one ahead. He’s the one. Cap’en Donald, cross country wanderer, half-mile jaunter, sprint man, dash man, anything you offer providing he has time to wipe the sweat off his track shoes. Not much time to stop for a chat—got a race to win. That’s Bill Donald.
WILLARD BURNS EASTMAN

"Bill"

Whitefield, N. H.
Prepared at Whitefield High School
Dramatic Club (2, 3); French Club (1, 2, 3); Wetherell Debating Club (3); Varsity Debating (3).

"How mighty are the works of the Lord."

"Bill" entered Middlebury with a most unusual athletic record. In truth, the only reason E. J. accepted his application was on his athletic prowess. He was the only ten-second man that could be scared up to represent 1928. "Bill" did remarkably his first year. With no difficulty at all he made All-American left fullback on the Hepburn Commons Dish Crashers Squad. But like lots of other University boys and girls, during his Sophomore year he started his trend dissipation-ward. Among other things, Mrs. Barnett's menus were too rich for him. But it was "Roomy" Hade that really set the pace that Bill couldn't keep up with. And today "Bill" is becoming a mere shadow of his true self.

GEORGE HARVEY EATON

Bradford, Vt.
Prepared at Bradford Academy
Junior Week Invitations Committee; Dramatic Club (2, 3); French Club (2, 3); 1928 KALEIDOSCOPE Board; Parker Prize Speaker (1); Merrill Prize Speaker (2).

"Here is a man can do it."

George is one of the boys whom the editors can't find anything to complain about. He certainly made himself indispensable on the 1928 KALEID Board, and we understand he is pretty much indispensable at the Maison Français. But we won't hold the latter against him. He is one of the elect who never yet has said anything but what there was a subtle chuckle behind it somewhere. The zephyrs blew in one good scout when George was wafted into Middlebury—but he's from Bradford, and all sorts of good things come from Bradford.
Edward Morrison Ferry
"Hank"
West Springfield, Mass.
Prepared at Williston Academy
Frosh Football (1); Varsity Basketball (2, 3); Interfraternity Basketball (1, 2, 3); Candidate for Assistant Manager Baseball (2); Delta Tau.
"He smote their childish hearts with awe."

Ask him any one of them, 1066, 1492, 1776, 1812, 1864, or any of the more obscure dates of historical importance, and "Hank" will tell you instantly who was king of Siam or which revolutionary group was in power in France. We've all got to admit that he knows history, but how he can do it and get away with a siesta in mid-class at the same time is a mystery to most of us. Don't think for a minute, however, that he is a book-worm. Not a bit of it. He's as sociable a chap as you will find anywhere. And he covers that basketball floor like a whirlwind.

Rollins Augustus Furbush
"Mike"
Salem, Mass.
A K E
Prepared at Colby Academy
Frosh Football Captain; Varsity Football (2, 3), Captain-elect; Frosh Frolic Committee; Sophomore Hop Committee; Junior Prom Committee; Fraternity Baseball (1, 2, 3); Class Treasurer (3); Glee Club (1, 2, 3); Interfraternity Council (2, 3); Delta Tau.
"Here's me friend Mike."

As leader of Twenty-Eight's own football eleven during his freshman year, "Mike" capably demonstrated his ability as a tearing end. The varsity looked upon him with longing eyes that year; but when he did appear in a varsity outfit the following season, hard luck immediately sat on judgment, and the squad was weakened by his loss. This year's record gave "Mike" his just award, however; after putting up the gamest fight of any player on a thoroughly game squad, he won his letter despite injuries and—incidentally, of course—won the captaincy for another year.
WILLIAM EVERETT GEE
"Ev"
Norwich, Conn.
X Ψ
Prepared at Norwich Free Academy
Candidate Assistant Manager of Track; Fraternity Basketball (2, 3); Fraternity Track (2); Frosh Football Squad.

"Doan say Haw—say Gee!"

Not "Billy Gee" but just "Ev," the last of the Norwich migration—that dear old Connecticut town certainly has given us her best. The rumor that "Ev" had been in Vermont before Middlebury is well founded; he was at Goddard a "short" time. "Ev" was stricken with a dread disease during the first day he was here; at that time he assumed a horizontal position, and, it is rumored, this affliction has never left him. But for this and the lack of an alarm clock, we feel sure that "Ev" would have been unexcelled in his class.

WALTER OTTO GOLLNICK
"Wallie"
Milwaukee, Wis.
A Σ Φ
Prepared at South Division High School
Frosh Football; Varsity Football (2, 3), "M" (3); Junior Week Program Committee; Fraternity Baseball, Track, Basketball; Golf (2, 3); Dramatic Club (2); German Club; Candidate Assistant Manager Baseball (3).

"Go east, young man, go EAST!"

"Wallie," needless to say, is a member of the Gollnick dynasty which has been present at Midd for some years back, direct from the far-famed town of Milwaukee. Perhaps that is why as a field general on the gridiron, he carries the football team through trying moments to victory. His winning smile certainly goes a long way. We're told it reaches as far West as Spokane. That's distance for you! But we feel we're lucky to have it here, too.
THEODORE T. GOODWIN
"Goody"
Marblehead, Mass.
Prepared at Marblehead High School
Glee Club (1); Dramatic Club (2, 3);
French Club (2, 3).
"Medicks and Physicks were his favorite lore."

The time-worn saying that "actions speak louder than words" certainly applies in the case of "Goody". One passes him on the campus, and with a quiet "hello" he is gone. It is rumored that he is seeking a medical education. Certainly he will not irritate his patients with loud or boisterous talking in the sick-room. At any rate, one must admit that he follows a good example, for his favorite expression is the same as that of the President of the United States: "________."
GEORGE HARRIS, JR.
“Bucky”
Brooklyn, N. Y.
Prepared at New Utrecht High School
Track (1, 2, 3); Neutral Baseball Team (2); Wig and Pen (1, 2, 3); Spanish Club (1, 2); Wetherell Debating Club (2, 3); Candidate Assistant Manager Baseball (2).

“A scholar—one well informed.”

If you ever feel slightly stale and behind the times and want to know what is going on in the world; if you want to know the celebrities and notorieties both in college and out; if you want to know what the latest and best show is and where it is playing; in short, if you want the “low-down” on the night life, golf, movies, bridge, fashions, music, art, sports, letters, motor cars, or world affairs, don’t spend your hard-earned dollar for six issues of “Panicky Pair”—just ask George Harris!

HAROLD ROBERT HIGGINS
“Hig”

Prepared at Corinth High School
College Choir (3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); German Club (1, 2); College Jazz Orchestra (1, 2, 3); Candidate Assistant Baseball Manager (2); Band (2); Y. M. C. A. (2).

“A life that leads melodious days.”

Regard with interest this product of nature. A brave man, but withal a very careful one. His the power to portray on ivory the varied feelings of the soul. His Grecian love of beauty is easily accounted for by the fact that he hails (and who may question that he also reigns?) from Corinth. But be not led astray. This Higgins is a brief and skinny runt. No doubt his family tree is the oak and “Hig” is still an acorn. But some day he’ll make himself a big tree in this human forest.

“...never spoke a wasted word thereafter.”

With this we introduce to the admiring multitude the fire-eating “Red.” So slender that in his Freshman year he wasn’t even wet at the rain party, still there’s more to this young gentleman than just exterior. For though “Red” has little to say on the campus, in his room he is an easy talker, temperamental, and with lots of pep. To his credit it might be said that, as a frosh, he could not be made to buy a pew in chapel. And it is with this same open-eyed alertness that he has stayed with us as a loyal member of ’28.

“Feeding his scholarly curiosity.”

“New Hampshire I love, but especially do I love Claremont.” Thus spaketh this youth in his verdant days as a frosh, but since then Middlebury has been substituted for the name of “the old home town.” From his social manifestations (or lack of them) on the campus, one might judge that “Abe” was lacking in the more frivolous side of life, but judging from his actions on several momentous occasions we know otherwise. We shall probably be able to find this young man in a college math room a few years hence. As a prof, however.

"Love all—but use discretion!"

The engraving accompanying this eulogy depicts, as the usual run of woodcuts do, our class' Bill Tilden. His reputation wasn’t made with his racquet alone, but that helped. Whether or not he prefers blonds, out of national pride, is difficult to state, but at any rate he is a gentleman. His ambition to enter Harvard Business College does him credit; yet it is partly explained by the fact that he has been engaged in the lucrative art since his Freshman year in Hephburn. We may yet see one of our classmates seated beyond his own huge mahogany desk!

Fame — fortune — glory — George sought none but now has all. Probably some wonder how he does it, but watch and ask one who knows. Greater sincerity has never lived in man—not even in Milton. Fame—just watch him on the gridiron; the pigskin enchants him. Fortune—any dance, or Pearsons Hall. Glory—Twenty-Eight has realized his value and into his hands put the responsibility of a great Junior Week.

Candidate Assistant Manager Football (2). "The silence of stern reality encompassed him around."

"Pete," we believe, is a man with a dark past. If no other fact might lead us to this surmise, this would: That no one in all Middlebury has ever heard "Pete" say an unnecessary word. And why? Because, of course, somewhere in the hidden days before he came to Middlebury, he learned to keep his own counsel. But "Pete's" a stalwart Twenty-Eighter for all that. And when it's time for the class to line up for its final-and-most-last photo, we are expecting this silent man to step forward at the crisis and say something of most momentous importance—if nothing more than "I pass."

"His lips seem to be permanently in a good-humored smile."

Here, girls, is a real "He-man." Football takes most of this lad's time. Look, however, at the coy and piquant expression on the physiognomy pictured above. Is there not an expression about the eyes that tells of other diversions? Girls are a problem to this man, the problem being how to get rid of them. "Clayt" had so many entanglements before he arrived at Middlebury that he has been spending the past three years straightening them out. As he reports progress we can expect to see him more often on the north side of the "Hill" next year.

Adolph has had a consuming desire to play varsity football ever since he won his numerals in his Freshman year. Since then he has been out for the team quite regularly but has a lot of bad luck in the way of injuries. He also has abilities in the lines of Latin and German that one would hardly expect. He has studied so much of both that one would almost think him able to speak Latin as well as he speaks German, but such is not the case. It seems that German is practically a native language with him while Latin is not. He also has a hearty dislike for French; if you don't believe it, ask him.

John is a big athletically-inclined fellow who works hard at everything no matter whether it be playing baseball, peeling "spuds," or studying. We have heard from various sources that in the days when the famous organization, "the Fleas of Starr Hall," was in active existence, John used to enjoy himself immensely at the quiet (?) little fights which took place there. But now that he has changed his residence to Hepburn he has forgotten the past as much as is possible and lives peacefully amid a circle of friends on the fifth floor, from whence there never issues the sound of conflict. For a friend "as is one," pick John!

Have you an inclination to hear good music? You should listen outside Hepburn on some balmy winter's night if you can find such a one, and you'll surely hear "Ross" strummin' his banjo. The concert's free—and worth hearing! And he's not only a banjo player, but a Phi Bete as well. Remarkable combination, isn't it? Bangor lost one mighty good gent when Gerald was side-tracked to Middlebury. "Jerry" is, was, and now and forever hopes to be a parson. From all reports he has the whole town of Whiting at his feet. Up on the top floor, southeast corner of Starr, pounds away an ever-bothersome Corona. Few realize that thus is brought about the effusions he calls sermons. There is only one book "Jerry" employs more than his valuable edition of the Scriptures—that's a Greek Lexicon. Rev. Miller doesn't swear habitually—but we all agree Greek is a bit troublesome.

Sounds like a class prophecy, perhaps, but it's the truth. Here in Midd we have always found him to be quiet and somewhat reserved, but, really, folks, it would be hard to imagine him that way in his native haunts. For "Freddie" is a lucky man. "Who is this who bears the golden key?"

Frank is a quiet, unassuming individual who studies comparatively little (apparently) but whose name, nevertheless, resides in a safe berth on the Dean's List. This does not necessarily mean that he spends a large portion of his evenings in protracted study. You see, he has a great passion for "tripping the light fantastic" on dance floors in parts foreign to Middlebury. This being the case, one is as liable to find him at Bridport or Lake Dunmore as anywhere else in the evening or the early hours of the morning. But putting all frivolities aside, Frank is a good fellow, always ready to help you out of a difficulty if he can.
I'm not sure how to proceed without more context. The text seems to be about two individuals, John Blanchard Walker and Iancu Abraham Weiss, and their involvement in various school activities. "Fritter" intended to be one of those making glory for Midd on the football field, but he found so many affairs demanding a bit of attention or a lift, he gave up the pigskin for a hammer, a rake, pencil and paper, and any other supplies which happen to be needed to do his task in hand.

This is the young giant who defeated Boston University one mellow October afternoon in 1926. "Gollnick to Whittemore" was the story of the forward pass that in its being completed utterly disproved "Hal's" motto quoted above. And in many a down-hill as well as up-hill battle on the gridiron, "Hal" has demonstrated his knowledge of the game of football and Middlebury's needs. Not only 1928, but the entire college claims as its own the tall, lean quarterback and end who came out of Brookline for a Midd degree.
"What's in a name?"

Every morning, just before classes start, "Pete" comes steaming up from downtown. When asked to tarry he replies, "I have some work to do," and immediately he is gone to a classroom or to the library. After this morning’s arrival he is seen only at irregular intervals during the day. But when the shades of night have fallen, he comes quietly into the room and asks, "Something to eat, fellows?" It is then that everyone appreciates the industry of this ambitious classmate. He has a ready smile which he bestows impartially on all.

Whatever it was, he returned to Middlebury. And Twenty-Eight graduates with its “Robert E.” in its ranks.

A poem or a pudding for my beloved?"
"Nan" has suffered acutely from the continual mispronunciation of her name—Beleal we wish to inform you is the one and only correct method, and see to it that you do not transgress again. Nan is known for her vigorous, active personality and for her literary skill which takes vent in Campus columns and the pages of the Saxonian. Her delicate, truly lovely lyrics have been praised by such notable critics as Dr. Burrage, Sir A. G. Grow, Mr. John Farrar and others. We expect to see her verses appearing before the public eye soon, and we think that "Nan" will some day occupy a literary Hall of Fame.
Helen Bell
St. Albans, Vt.

"She that could think and never disclose her mind."

Helen reads and reads and reads—if you ever need advice about a recent novel, she will tell you what's what in a sharp sentence or two. Unfortunately Helen frequently finds life in general and Middlebury in particular a trifle boring, but one day when a special delivery letter appeared for her in chapel we saw her become most enthusiastic at once, so we know that she has no incapacity for fun. And if intellectual alertness counts for aught, this young lady should travel far.

"She speaks only when she has something to say."

Esther is a quiet being and goes about her business with an air of accomplishing many things. Once upon a time someone said this to us about Esther: "Behind her solemn face she's laughing in a most rollicking fashion—one can tell by the twitch of the corners of her mouth and by the twinkle in the left of her right eye. One would like to know her better but she keeps her fun and herself locked up from the outside world. Some day Esther will achieve the success that comes to those who go quietly along their way, making each moment count and storing up inside for future use, all that many send dashing thoughtlessly out into the transitory today."
DOROTHY BRACKETT
Hyannis, Mass.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3); Student Government Council (2, 3); Dramatic Club (2, 3).

"Thou mightest call her a goodly person."

Dorothy is a Good-Samaritan sort of person, generous with all her possessions from a precious Victrola down to bits of notebook paper that people always borrow but never return. Her bookcase is an interesting place with classics, current fiction and poetry scattered among the necessary array of text books. We have a secret suspicion that she jots down bits of verse herself from time to time—yes? no? We haven't many pillars of the church around here for some reason, but "Dot" is next best—a pillar of the Y. W. C. A.—and a sturdy member of the Student Government Council, too.

"She meets the morning with a smile; Alarm clocks cannot daunt her virtue."

In all the college stories that we read before we started our own collegiate careers, there appeared without fail one all-round girl who was an athletic star, a Y. W. leader, who received class honors and was sent to conventions and at the same time maintained a remarkable scholarship average and gained the respect of men and women alike. That was Helen, new president of "Stu G."

"What shall we say about Katherine," we asked a friend of ours, and she replied: "About 'Kay'? Oh, that she's friendly and appealing, that she has a winning smile and a dear, odd way of saying things." So we've told you that much about her; now what shall we say next? We might ask Mr. Waite, but he, alas, would have a prejudiced point of view; we will have to proceed to describe her ourselves. Unfortunately "Kay" does not live on the hill; she pops around to classes in a private Chevrolet.

"Look into her eyes and you will see there the reflection of friendship."

"Al" was a Weybridgeite, a princess for two consecutive years, and then was promoted to the office of queen (or Freshman Advisor) at Hillside, second only to Miss Fish herself. The biology lab makes a nice playground for "Al," when she isn't hiking or exhibiting her skill on the gym floor or inviting her friends in for an evening spread. And once she spent a whole semester searching for a philosophy of life—although anyone who could keep as cool and as cheerful as "Al" must have had quite a workable philosophy of life to start out with.
“Patience and Perseverance have won many a battle.”

“Brownie” has a plentiful supply of pluck and determination; we have seen her struggling to master Math and absorb English; we have watched her taking painstaking stitches in a dress for a curly-haired little sister; and then we’ve seen her starting out on the long cold ride home which would take the jest out of “Thanks for the buggy ride” for most of us, yet Genevieve remains cheerful and undisturbed, making the best of her lot in a truly inspiring way.

“An intellect of quite unequalled brilliancy.”

“Kay” is a girl of means—the means to design a play set or plan a dance. Right there’s the idea! She has the means to regulate a dormitory or write a poem—that’s “Kay.” And she’s a ways and means all alone when it comes to cooking. And can she step—there are those who say so! By George, as an all-round girl, her means are aimed towards success.

"The claims of worry she denies
And whispers sadness into sleep."

Inda came to Middlebury very young, but, even before her Freshman year was over, she became more sedate and serious—that is what an engagement can do! Although she must have been lonely these last two years, she has seemed very cheerful and has played the part of big sister to many a girl and perhaps to some of the brothers as well. Biology and Bible are her star courses, and at Hillcrest she plays tiddly-winks with heavy trays.

"She owns a wealth of smiles."

Mary is doing double duty—we see her a lot because we see her twice to seeing others once. We see her sliding down chapel hill and along across the campus, hugging her books to her tightly (did you ever notice how devoted Mary is to her books?)—and then when we happen down to Joe's for a sundae, there again Mary's shining countenance greets us. Mary joined '28 her Sophomore year and we have adopted her heartily indeed.

The gym misses "Sally" now but she is about on the campus still and she's a happy reminder that not all the friendly Middlebury women live in dormitories—there are some scattered elsewhere around the town. "Sally's" eyes have a thoughtful depth and sometimes when she has smiled and sung out "Hello" and passed by we wish she had said more, we wish that we had known her better.

And in other than athletic capacities Jane shows her ability; she's clever in the classroom and original with her pen—what kind of a line is her specialty, you ask?—we must confess that we don't know, but no doubt you could find some one to tell if you were to try.

Next she partook of the advantages the Homestead offers. We wonder what the future holds for this little miss—lots of interesting things, we imagine, and we wish her all kinds of luck along the way. Just one word of warning—beware of H. L. Mencken and a magazine with a bright green cover!

A year in Sophomore Alley failed to mar her good disposition and the Homestead proved a place well fitted to her culinary skill.

An interesting career should open its doors to "Marge" when the portals of Middlebury close behind her.

Perhaps Middlebury seemed desirable for reasons other than our accepted superiority in such matters as football, but at any rate she's here and is quite glad that she came, we'll guarantee. This year "Ev" spends her time, we're told, indulging in long French conversations, exhibiting that delicacy of accent that one acquires after eating and sleeping French at the Château.

"This gentle miss is happily arrived
Both for her good and for our own."

Mildred is another person wise enough to transfer to Middlebury after a year at some less enlightened institution. She goes her quiet way from Château to campus absorbing American Lit. and what have you in a studious way. Besides that, there are two arts at which Mildred is proficient: one is bridge playing that whiles away many a care-free hour. The other is the rare art of listening. She who, like Mildred, can listen to another's tales of woe deserves a crown of laurels and of myrtle leaves!

MARJORIE CHAFFEE DEWING

Prepared at Richford High School
"All are needed by each one,
Nothing is fair or good alone."

Marjorie is such a very quiet being that she often enters a room without your being aware of her coming in—you look up and there she is! Often she will have a weighty book in her hand, for “Marge” is a shark in math and physics, you know; such penetrating subjects to master, too—one marvels at her studiousness. As for human qualities, Marjorie has kindliness, friendliness and sympathy on tap for all. What more could the gods require?
I shall sit like a sibyl, hour after hour intent, watching the future come and the present go.

"Normal human beings are the salt of the earth," someone has said, "but thanks be there are other condiments." Hester is one of the other condiments; she is a different person, in other words. Someone with an interest in strange psychology will write a book about her some day. And in the meantime, Hester will be writing books or poems about someone else, or about herself, as the case may be. Her witticisms, her observations on life and people, her powers of understanding, make her an interesting person to have around.

Here are virtues which must make us wonder.

Who is that little person so steadfastly bound for somewhere? One is very sure that it is an important somewhere, because she is very intent indeed. But if you greet her with your most pleasant manner, perhaps you will be shown a dazzling pair of dimples—royal reward for anyone. Popping about from Saxonian to Kaleidoscope to Campus, it would seem that Alice's youthful brain would be quite overworked. But 'tis not thus! Somewhere Alice has found the secret of selecting the necessary from the unnecessary, and she does not forget it.

"Give everyone thine ear, but few thy voice."
Dorothy has become so acclimated to the Château that she talks French to the alligators in Warner Science Hall and reads French dissertations for her biology theses. We marvel at such adaptability! Dorothy has enjoyed most of her college life, we think, except the hours spent in the gym, and one is inclined to sympathize with her in that, for when one is not athletically inclined, what is more boring than leaping about on horizontal bars! However, "Dot" has a sense of humor, which is a saving grace indeed.

Maid Marian walks many a mile each day from town to college and from college home again. She seems thereby to gain vigor and conviviality, however, and is quite apt to be the person who puts pep in a volley ball game. When we return to college in the fall, Marian is one of the first persons we see, for she belongs to Miss Bristol's retinue and works hard at registration time and when marks come in. In the meantime she studies and plays about Pearsons a good bit so that we feel, despite her off-the-hill abode, that we really know Marian quite well.

“Marge” is a gay, rather butterfly-like person, but it is a very grave error to think that she is all lightness. Did you not know of her interest in the Blue Baboon? All joking aside, however, Marguerite knows how to study as well as how to dance; and she can carry on an intriguing conversation as well as rule a dormitory full of girls with a house-chairmanly iron hand.

Where's "Betty"? Oh, you'll find "Betty" over there behind the bright red raincoat. The red raincoat will probably be walking along with a green one and both will be headed to or from the Château. "Betty" has a will, not a temper as you might think from the color of her raincoat, but a determination which makes her say, "Now, 'Betty' King, you do this" or "Don't you do that"; and then she makes "Betty" King mind. In other words, she's a decided little person and we admire her for it. Above the decided-ness, there's a streak of fun and frolic, as the person in the green raincoat will tell you.

Don't let "Lockie's" picture deceive you—she isn't that way all the time. Far from it. Early in the morning and after ten at night she is herself and quite frequently not a "silent self" either. The serious expression is worn on important occasions when discussing Cooper or playing a tennis match or instructing Freshmen how upperclassmen should be respected. And not only does she take the best the college offers—she seems to be taking all the rest, too! Is it six or seven courses, including that fascinating but not exactly easy chemistry? And Margaret will modestly and simply reply as if seven courses were merely as many chapel-cuts, or something equally as matter of fact.

"Celestia—star of ever-increasing brightness."
Helen came to us from Proctor where the marble grows. She early won for herself the nickname "Sunshine" because of her cheerful frame of mind. For she was cheerful although she had two great burdens—Latin and long hair! The first of these she passed successfully, but we're glad to say that she still retains the latter. When someone had the bright idea of using middle names to distinguish the various Helens and Harriets of the Weybridge throng, Helen gave up "Sunshine" (in name only) and has since been called Celestie. Besides a new name, she has acquired new friends and new bits of knowledge, and has lost none of the distinctiveness of her appearance.

That one small head could carry all she knew."

Florence is one of those persons whom one calls a "whiz" at studies—and that's much more interesting than being a greasy grind. Florence digs about for knowledge as some people dig around for gold, and she comes up with gems that many a professor highly appreciates. Besides this, she has a dash of wittiness in her nature, and a love for music plus an ability to sing.
Florence Celestia Porter
Turners Falls, Mass.

Prepared at Turners Falls High School
Program Committee, Y. W. C. A. (3); French Club (2, 3); Dramatic Club (2, 3); Debating Club (3); Health Club (3); Hiking Club (3); Assistant Editor Campus (3); Women's Varsity Debating Team (3).

"I take her for the flower of womankind."
Here is a third transfer in our illustrious class, for Florence did not join our ranks until Sophomore year. This welcome addition to our class possesses an agreeable personality, smiling eyes, and a fluent pen—valuable possessions all three. The Château has been her abiding place ever since she came here, and we hope that she has enjoyed Middlebury as much as Middlebury enjoys her.

Esther B. Quackenboss
Providence, R. I.

Prepared at Northfield Seminary
Transferred from Brown University.

"A charming stranger come among us."
"Q" is small in stature, 'tis true, but that is the only small thing about her. The fact that she has just come to us this year and does not live on the campus has prevented many from knowing the true worth and delightful wit which lie beneath her quiet reserve. The word shirk is not in her vocabulary and the more difficult a thing is the more determined she is to do it well!
Evelyn Frances Quick
Watertown, Conn.

Prepared at Watertown High School
Dramatic Club (1, 2); French Club (1, 2);
Baseball (1, 2); Class Basketball (1, 2).

"Young and beauteous Brought up as best becomes a gentlewoman."

Here is an attractive young person, with plenty of good looks and lots of pretty clothes. Such a combination is bound to be interesting, you know! "Ev" can pop about with a basketball, play a good game of cards, ply a needle pleasantly; and she keeps up a vital correspondence with someone who graduated from our college a short while ago.

Helen Elizabeth Revere
Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Prepared at Mamaroneck High School
French Club (2, 3); Choir (2, 3); Freshman Frolic Committee (1); Volley Ball (1).

"Hark!
And down like dominoes along the dark,
Her little silvery laughter spills again."

Almost any hour of the day Helen's name will be heard echoing through Pearsons, due to the arrival of a special delivery letter or a telephone call. A soft voice and rather demure ways add to her attractions and many are those that have come under her spell. Helen is very active and very much alive and we think that she finds the world a very entertaining place to live on, far preferable to any far-off planet such as Mars.
LOIS CATHERINE KOBINSON
Middlebury, Vt.

Prepared at Middlebury High School
Dramatic Club (3); Sophomore Play Property Manager (2); KALEIDOSCOPE Board, Art Staff (3); Class Basketball (2).

"Her greatest charm is individuality."

Lois has a very artistic pen and you will find many of her masterpieces scattered through the KALEIDOSCOPE. Her crisp, rather different way of saying things makes her an unusual and interesting person to have around. It is rumored that she has an interest invested down South somewhere, but as to that we aren't absolutely sure. At any rate we know of no one else like Lois, not even her twin, Louise. It's really a double achievement to be distinctive and at the same time a twin; don't you think so?

LOUISE EVELYN ROBINSON
Middlebury, Vt.

Prepared at Middlebury High School

"She was of those who hoard their own thoughts lovingly Feeling them far too dear to give away."

Some days we come into chapel and see Louise sitting quietly at the organ, and we know she's going to play the prelude that day. She always does it very nicely, too, and we appreciate and admire her ability. Louise is a very peaceful person, taking life calmly, as though underneath she knew a secret that made hustle and bustle seem silly and unnecessary. We'd like to know the secret, too.
Pauline Agnes Sargent Sanford
Middlebury, Vt.

Prepared at Middlebury High School
Spanish Club (3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Sophomore Play (2).

"Not that she loves studies less
But fun the more."

"Polly" is just "Polly" whatever one tries to say. No overdose of stu-diousness was put into her constitut-tion, yet there's a sufficiency of cleverness there. She seems to enjoy life, to have good times, and to be gifted with all the social attributes that tend to make hedonistic pursuits less boring than we sometimes find them.

Louise Grant Sargent
Richmond, Vt.

Prepared at Northfield High School and Richmond High School
Y. W. C. A. Room Committee (2); Field
Hockey (1, 2); Dramatic Club (1, 2);
Spanish Club (1, 2, 3), Secretary and Treasurer (3); House Chairman (2).

"A mind serene for contemplation."

Louise is a Spanish student and she delves deeply into phonetics and still more deeply into the literature of Spain. Some day, we suppose, a classroom of youngsters will call her Senorita and she will instruct them carefully using all the directions Professors Adams and Lacalle have given forth. Such is the pedagogical fate that comes upon us all too soon! There are avenues of escape, to be sure, but will Louise take them? Who can tell?
MILDRED ELLA SENECAL

Y. W. World Fellowship (2, 3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Debating Club (3); Hiking Club (3); French Club (3); Health Club (3); Sub U. R., Y. W. C. A. (3); Rural Discussion Group, Y. W. C. A. (2, 3).

“She’s pretty, she’s sweet She’s gentle and neat.”

“Hel-lo, girls!”—with a smile between the syllables, you know. Thus “Mil” pops her head in the door to let you know she’s just back from physiology class. “Mil” is sweet—isn’t that the adjective? And oh, so generous. If there’s anything that can be divided or passed around, ’tis always her pleasure to do so. And when she’s really and truly serious, ask her about World Fellowship work and a summer of social service down South somewhere.

RUTH ELIZABETH SIMMONS
Pittsfield, Mass.
Α Ε Δ
Prepared at Pittsfield High School
Junior Prom Committee (3); Field Hockey (3); French Club (2, 3).

“I’m glad to be living, aren’t you?”

“Simmie” is one of those studious young women who take history for the fun of it and gym because they have to. She spends whole days at the library absorbing the most indigestible books, but the minute she shuts the last book she’s through with studying and ready for a good time. She took an intensive course in housekeeping at Breadloaf one summer but she denies any interest in men and matrimony, and even hints at a career. What it is, we don’t know, but just leave it to “Simmie!”
Eunice Clara Smith
Chester Depot, Vt.
Prepared at Chester High School
Pyramid Club; French Club (2); Spanish Club (3).
"Her ways are ways of pleasantness and all her paths are peace."

Quietly seated behind the desk in the Ped library, deeply and seriously engaged with writing, sits Eunice! You'd think she was doing a theme or some involved pedagogical tract at least, but when you get nearer you'll discover she's writing a letter. To whom? Well, if you think that Eunice does nothing but study and eat and sleep, you're certainly mistaken. Haven't you ever seen Eunice issuing from the supper room clad in an apron and with a pile of dishes in each hand—or coming in with face all lighted because the mail has just arrived?

Elizabeth Stoughton
Hardwick, Conn.
Prepared at Hardwick Academy
Pyramid Club; Dramatic Club (2, 3).
"It's always fair weather when good friends get together."

Put "Lib" and "Judy" and a few others from third floor Pearsons together, mix in a sufficient supply of leisure, isolate from callers on business, and you have a good recipe for fun. Ripples of laughter will be followed by a brief pause for another witty remark, this one no doubt from Ruby and then another peal of laughter comes forth, or rather a series of hoots! Just how far "Lib" is responsible for all of this, it's hard to say, but that she's an important member of this famous bunch nobody will deny.
Viola Marie Sturtevant
Middlebury, Vt.
Prepared at Middlebury High School
Basketball Team (1); Dramatic Club (3).
“She hath a friendly air, and many pleasant wiles.”

Viola is an attractive young inhabitant of the town of Middlebury and a serious student of the college on the hill. She ponders over the mysteries of Latin and Italian, but nary a gray hair has she acquired therefrom yet; nor have any of her studious pursuits caused her to grow prematurely gray. For references as to her character and disposition, we would send you to Miss Mary Calvi; and if Mary fails you, then inquire of Sarah.

Miriam Carleton Sweet
Woodsville, N. H.
Prepared at Woodsville High School
Pyramid Club; Field Hockey (3); Y. W. Music Committee (3); Volley Ball (2); French Club (3); English Club (3); Glee Club (1, 2, 3); Choir (1, 2, 3); Secretary Health Club (3); Debating Club (3); Rural Discussion Group (3); Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Hiking Club (3).

“Hers are eyes that shame the violet.”

Look in the chemistry lab, the American Lit room in Old Chapel, the Music Building and the Château, and if you’ve searched all four and haven’t found Miriam, she must be down to Joe’s, that is, of course, if she isn’t somewhere else. But wherever she is, you can identify her by her quiet air of dignity and her long dark lashes which serve to enhance the singular combination of blue eyes and black hair. A singing voice may be added to this catalogue of identifying attributes, so you see that Miriam is a person to be both distinguished and admired.
Alice Taber
East Northfield, Mass.

Phi Mu
Prepared at Northfield Seminary
French Club (2, 3); Dramatic Club (2, 3); (transferred from Colby College).
"Ready in heart, in hand."
Dependability—that's Alice. And it's cheerful dependability, too. Ask her to do a thing and she's happy to comply with your request. That isn't all—she'll do the thing, too. There are those who are willing and there are those who say they will and there is the final small group who, in addition to these qualities, really dig in and get the thing done on time and well. Alice belongs to the elect. She doesn't say much and she leaves off the flourishes but somehow, with a smile for the wind-up, the hard work's done.

Gwendolyn Christine Thatcher
Cummington, Mass.

Prepared at Ashfield High School
Pyramid Club; Field Hockey (1, 2, 3);
Track (1); Rural Discussion Club (3);
Debating (2, 3); Tan Kappa Alpha.
"I will do my best."
Whiz-bang! "Gwen" smashes through the line every time! If she has the basketball, no one else has it; and if she hasn't it, she soon will have. If it's the baseball bat or the hockey stick she has her hands on, it had better be a stout one, and her opponents will need a stout one, too. If it's math, the figures tremble and march along to the answer, driven by "Gwen's" determination; and if it's debating, concentration on the matter at hand soon speaks forth. "Gwen's" plucky and she's not afraid of work, and she's positively set to do what she wills to do.
MARTHA LOUISE THOMPSON
Saxtons River, Vt.
Prepared at Vermont Academy
Glee Club (1, 2, 3); Dramatic Club (2, 3); French Club (3); English Club (3).
“A life that moves to gracious ends.”
Louise is a reserved person, quiet and self-contained, yet ever so likable when you really know her. She is responsive to the best in literature and music, too. We surmise that music is her deepest interest; she plays the piano very well indeed and we’ve seen her practicing on the chapel organ. In prosaic pursuits like biology, she is very diligent and so far has been successful in all her encounters with alligators and their friends.

VIDA MARGUERITE WATERMAN
Chester, Vt.
Σ K
Prepared at Chester High School
Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Field Hockey, Class Team (3); Class Volley Ball Team (3).
“Knowledge is now no more a fountain sealed.”
Vida has a calm and sensible exterior which is really the indication of a well-ordered mind, that, in turn, is a prerequisite to the careful work Vida is continually doing in the biology lab. But in concentrating on Vida’s virtues, you mustn’t forget that she has a sense of humor, and a love for fun. She has always been among the first ranks in marks, but this year, if she isn’t careful, too many telephone calls and nights out will be her ruination.
MRS. EDNA WHITE
Middlebury, Vt.
Patroness of A Σ Δ
Cosmos Club; Green Mountain Club;
D. A. R.; Women's Club of Middlebury;
League of Women Voters.

"And none are to be compared to her."
Behold, a lady who leads a double life! Who is it that prepares our Latin professor's breakfast every morning and, soon afterwards, sits beside us in the classroom, absorbing history and biology even as you and I? We feel sure that Professor White will not deny that she is a good home maker, nor will we deny that she is a good student; and we add this bit of praise: she is not guilty of that grown-up sin of crabbing courses! She leads a double, but a useful, life.

IRENE EMMA WYMAN
Claremont, N. H.
II Β Φ
Prepared at Stevens High School
Dramatic Club (1, 2, 3); Glee Club (1, 2, 3).

"She's a jolly good fellow Which nobody can deny."
The quotation really does not refer to Irene's boyish bob, although at present writing she has a manish haircut which is far more attractive than most. But who can tell when she'll yield to the current impulse to let it grow long again? Irene is one of those persons who take an extra course now and then—just for fun, you know. We wonder if her semester at the Homestead was just for fun, too, or whether there was somewhere a more subtle reason. Did you know him when he attended Middlebury, too?
Laura Flinn Kennedy
Milton, Vt.

Dramatic Club (1, 2); Campus Reporter (1, 2); Y. W. C. A. Social Committee (1, 2).

Laura departed from us for a time but apparently was unable to stay away, for here she is again ambitiously planning to graduate with the rest of us at a date not many decades away. It is needless to say that we are ever so glad to have her with us once more. We hope that she will thrive on Middlebury soil and that neither nervous breakdowns nor naval wars with China will arise to mar her happiness.

Athletics
The Athletic Council is created by the Undergraduate Association as the governing board of all the athletic activities of the men's college. It passes on all budgets, schedules, and expenditures of the various athletic departments, and approves all elections to athletic offices. It makes many recommendations to the undergraduate body pertaining to the athletic welfare of the students. It issues insignia to the several sports, and in case of a tie in the managerial election, it has the right to cast the deciding vote. Its membership consists of five faculty members, one alumnus not a member of the faculty, and five undergraduates who are members of the Junior or Senior classes. The managers of the athletic teams are ex-officio members of the Council.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

It was the indomitable Black Panther spirit that turned seeming hopelessness into hopefulness and made a success of a season which began under such inauspicious circumstances. Coach Marshall Klevenow had but four letter-men as a nucleus for his eleven this fall; he had others who were veterans, it is true, but all of Middlebury's older and more experienced men had graduated. This was not the only handicap under which the season was begun, however. For though very strenuous work-outs at the opening of college rounded the squad into some form, with the first game, injuries started to draw strength from the team, and for half of the season Coach Klevenow was forced to see his regulars dropping out one by one. Jones, Webber, Furbush, Halleur, and Simmons were lost in this way early in the season. The three former reappeared for Midd before the last game; but Simmons, who received a fractured leg in a practice scrimmage with the Freshman squad, was unable to leave his crutches before the middle of December. Other regulars dropped out of the line-up at various stages of the season, to appear again in positions in later games. Ransom and Hendrix were two who were particularly needed in earlier games, but because of injuries had to remain on the side lines.

Yet despite all these troubles, which would have defeated a heavier team under more favorable conditions, Coach Klevenow stuck to his determination to make a success of the fall's schedule. And that he did it is attested to by the fact that Gameliel Painter's cane, carried by "Prexy" Moody, led the snake dance through the late autumn dusk on the evening of November 13, when Vermont had gone down before the unconquerable Blue and White, 13 to 0. Nor was Vermont the only team to suffer defeat by Middlebury. Boston University was beaten by a point after touchdown, kicked by "Bo" Willis; Fort Ethan Allen was drubbed unmercifully here on Porter Field by an eleven composed of second- and third-string players. And the heavy and more experienced Providence College was held to a 13 to 13 tie on November 20, in the season's concluding contest. Maine, Williams, Wesleyan, and Norwich beat Middlebury, the latter taking the state championship when she overthrew Vermont at Burlington with a single field goal.

No summary of scores, however, gives an adequate representation of the true results of the season. The seemingly overwhelming piling up of difficulties and troubles, one-sided defeats at the opening of the season, and a 12 to 0 beating by Norwich at Northfield were enough in themselves to have made a completion of the schedule seem impossible. Yet Coach Klevenow fought on. Constant shifts were made in his line-up to fill the vacancies left by injuries at the hands of heavier teams; new formations and plays were tried for almost every game, in an endeavor to make effective the attack of a comparatively light and inexperienced eleven. And at last, despite all handicaps, Middlebury's team found itself, the college came behind it, and a glorious whirlwind of play wound up the fall's sport.
Hisman Around End—Maine-Middlebury Game

The Panther's attack via the air was the big factor in this successful dénouement. Boston University was the first to feel the sinews of the wiry cat from our green hills, when Gollnick heaved himself into headlines with a pass to "Hal" Whittemore whose touchdown tied a 6 to 6 score. And shocky-headed
"Bo" Willis, grinning cheerily, humbled Boston with a drop-kick in a try for point. Vermont, favored by all the state papers and sports writers, heavier, with an aerial attack asserted to be equal to ours—Vermont, too, was conquered by the air. Providence College, for all the brute strength and speed of its players, was held to a tie chiefly through our passing. That Marshall Klevenow worked wonders when he gave us such a team is beyond question; but he has done more than that, for his stubborn spirit, instilled into the squad, created an eleven which, taking the field in another season—and it will, for there are eleven letter-men left us—should carry on from the point where it laid down its togs this fall.

In Rollins ("Mike") Furbush, captain-elect, our second varsity captain from the class of Twenty-Eight, we have the fighting courage of the Black Panther personified. "Mike" was hurt early in the season—and all last fall he had been forced to keep to the bench, it will be remembered, because of a twisted knee.
"Mike's" prospects of appearing again this fall in his well-loved sport seemed small. But he was careful; Coach Klevenow and his assistant managers took good care of him. And at last, in the Fort Ethan Allen fray, when Middlebury reasserted herself, "Mike" was the only Midd player to remain on the field the entire four quarters, thereby testing his recovered strength. He faced Vermont when the Green and Gold went down before the Blue and White. And then, on November 20, he took his place at tackle against the Providence team. No one in the stands knew what courage it required for him to fight three quarters against the might of the Providence offense. Few on the bench realized that he was suffering, with every play, from a serious attack of appendicitis. In the second quarter he went down, and was brought to the side lines. But when Middlebury again took the field, “Mike” was back again at tackle, balancing the position held by Twenty-Eight’s other great captain, “Gord” Wiley; and there “Mike” stayed, till the last whistle had sounded. He was rushed from the field to the hospital, before he could change from his togs, and an operation was performed that night. This is the man that Middlebury’s team chose to lead it on the field next year. This is Twenty-Eight’s contribution to Middlebury’s football history. Men like “Gord” Wiley and “Mike” Furbush would be a pride to any class.

(121)

MIDDLEBURY 0—WESLEYAN 7
Middletown Conn., September 25, 1926

A bad punt and a fumble in the first quarter gave Wesleyan the only “break” she needed to beat Midd in the season-opener at Middletown on Saturday afternoon, September 25. Middlebury out-rushed, out-kicked, and out-played her opponent from the first play, but Wesleyan’s lead of one touchdown could not be shaken. Middlebury punted out of bounds in the first quarter; Osborne with a 17-yard end run and Tetley on a fake play scored the touchdown. Lee of Wesleyan kicked his point. That was the end of the story as far as scoring went. Wesleyan almost immediately was thrown onto the defensive, and was fighting defensively for nearly all of the rest of the game. Twice Midd threatened to score, but each time our attack failed. Midd’s forward passing game was in its infancy thus early, however; we completed two forwards to Wesleyan’s one. Warm weather bothered the players and made play rather listless.

MIDDLEBURY 0—WILLIAMS 32
Williamstown, Mass., October 2, 1926

On the following Saturday a real disaster overtook the Panther when Williams College was met at Williamstown. A withering barrage of straight linesmashing football crumpled our light defense and swept opposition away for five touchdowns. Slippery footing gave the heavier home-eleven an advantage. Again and again Middlebury somehow fought to center field, only to lose the ball there and be pressed back and across her goal line. Constant hammering of our weak spots gave the Purple the victory. Our center and guards bore the brunt of a ceaseless pounding by a heavy, fast backfield. Our eleven fought grimly, but futilely. Howe and Brown of Williams came through our line at will for long gains, while Fall proved too elusive for our tacklers. Williams used the pass very sparingly, though quite effectively. She knew we lacked weight and experience. On the strength of her superiority in those branches, she won the game. Captain Wiley and "Bo" Willis were the two representatives of the Blue and White who won mention in the news reports of the contest.

MIDDLEBURY 0—MAINE 34
Porter Field, October 9, 1926

Maine's victory over the Panther, the most one-sided game lost by the Blue and White during the fall, was contested bitterly every foot of the way. The Pine Tree eleven had the advantages of weight and experience; perfect interference for their runners, and a pair of fast backfield men, made their conquest of Midd inevitable. But Middlebury fought with all the untamable spirit of the Panther. Within the shadow of her goal posts, she stood like a wall of iron. Captain Wiley and "Red" Allen, '29, proved bulwarks of strength in the line during these periods of strain. Willis, '29, and our own George Hinman uncovered a few of the end runs which have made them outstanding in many a fray; but Maine's weight smothered all other attempts at an offense. Simmons, '28, had just run back a kick-off for 20 yards when the game ended.

MIDDLEBURY 7—BOSTON UNIVERSITY 6
Boston, October 16, 1926

Then Middlebury went to Boston, and the long tide began to flow in. With a defense over which he had spent many weary afternoons, Coach Klevenow flung back again and again the onrush of the Terriers, successfully repulsing an attack that had the edge over his line in weight. And then, when Midd took the ball, a sudden air raid that found Boston University unprepared carried the play down the field into her own territory, and put across the touchdown that tied the score. Boston had scored with the close of the second quarter. Midd fought back as the last minutes ticked away in the fourth. Gollnick and Whittemore—both men of Twenty-Eight—were the battery that tied; “Wally” heaved a pass to “Hal” with barely three minutes of play left, and then “Bo” Willis stepped back and drop-kicked the winning point. There was joy on the campus when the news came north in the late October dusk. Middlebury was fighting back. After bad reverses, she was coming into her old strength again, finding herself, with a new eleven working together at last.

MIDDLEBURY 0—NORWICH 14
Northfield, October 23, 1926

Norwich beat Midd the following week-end, it is true, and thereby set herself into position to win the championship from Vermont later. But all during the game which ended in the Panther’s defeat, Middlebury showed a courage and strength that had been sadly lacking earlier in the year. Somehow the men were working together better. Teamwork was replacing a sort of loose individual type of play. The Cadets scored in the first and second quarters. Then the game settled down to an exchange of battering. Norwich had been somewhat weakened by her attack. But Midd had left Simmons at home with a fractured leg, and neither Furbush, Jones, nor Hallenr was able to get into the contest. However, Norwich unquestionably, with full strength in both line-ups, had the stronger eleven. “Norwich, represented by a championship team, brought down the Panther fairly, the first really decisive victory for the Cadets in many years.”

MIDDLEBURY 61—FORT ETHAN ALLEN 0
Porter Field, October 30, 1926

With the Norwich game past history, all that remained for Midd was—the whole season’s ultimate goal—the University of Vermont. For within the past few years the defeat of Vermont has come to mean even more than the capturing of the state’s championship. And with this in mind, Coach Klevenow put in a strenuous week of practice for the squad, then sent all of his men against Fort Ethan Allen here on Saturday, as a test of the strength of the new machine. With the regular team playing only the first quarter, and second- and third-string men filling out the remainder of the game, Midd piled up 61 points on a team that had held Norwich to a 32 score earlier in the season. And the followers of the Panther were jubilant. Now there was a fighting chance with Vermont. For on the same day, the Green and Gold went down before Norwich at Burlington, 3 to 0.

MIDDLEBURY 13—VERMONT 0
Porter Field, November 13, 1926

The stage was set for the season’s major contest. Vermont come to Middlebury with odds of two- and three-to-one on her. News writers in the state and on Boston staffs conceded her at least four touchdowns over Middlebury. All that stood between her and this tantalizing victory was Coach Klevenow and his squad of determined fighters. Injured men had husbanded their strength for this game. “Mike” Furbush, scarcely recovered from his season’s enforced lay-off, and already suffering from appendicitis, was in his tackle position with the sounding of the first whistle. And then began the most glorious battle fought on Porter Field throughout the entire fall. Vermont had speed. Vermont had a very slight advantage of weight. Condon, Scutakes, and Morse formed a backfield combination that meant trouble. But opposed to these three stars, who unquestionably were individually better than any of Midd’s men that day, Middlebury had an entire eleven, teeth set, determined to win. And we won. Vermont had an air attack; we had a better. And when the lines proved stubborn, our superior passing won. “Wally” Gollnick went six yards through Vermont for the first touchdown. And then, having fought back into position again, he heaved a 28-yard pass to Whittemore and a shorter one to Hinman to score the second touchdown. It was Middlebury College that won the game. But it looked good to see men of Twenty-Eight assisting so materially in that winning. All through the night that settled down on the field shortly after the final whistle, Middlebury celebrated her hard-won victory. A hundred couple at the gym attended the informal dance which had now become a veritable Victory Ball. And outside, on the campus, the huge U. V. M. bonfire, guarded by the Frosh, blazed high over the hill to tell the state that the Panther had conquered the Catamount.

MIDDLEBURY 13—PROVIDENCE 13
Porter Field, November 20, 1926

Any game that follows the Vermont game and ends our season is usually anti-climax and of little importance. But this fall Middlebury somehow caught a Tartar. Providence College proved to be another eleven of the Maine University type—heavy line, rangy, fast backfield. Our eleven should have considered it had won a rest; instead, it went out to fight its hardest against the invaders. And though nothing depended on the outcome of the game, and though all the advantages were with the invaders, Middlebury fought back from an early reverse.
and tied the score, 13 to 13, in the third quarter. Providence was over-confident. A touchdown in the first and second quarters made the game seem easy. Midd could not use her passing because of the mud. Providence out-rushed us at will. Yet at crucial moments our line held. And after Gollnick had taken the ball over for our first touchdown, Whittemore at end broke through the Providence College line, took the place of the visiting halfback as he reached to receive a double pass, and with the pack at his heels, “Hal” ran 54 yards down the muddy, slippery field with the second touchdown. Willis, as calm as you please, kicked the tying point. The remainder of the game was sullen line-pounding, with the ball in Midd’s territory, and the Panther on the verge of defeat, most of the time. We had just fought back from our three-yard line as the game and the season ended.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

WITH only four of the past season’s letter men back as a nucleus around which to build a team, Coach Klevenow had to develop a new combination in the few weeks of outdoor practice preceding the Easter trip. The southern invasion did not bear the fruit of victory such as had been hoped it would; nevertheless, considering the short time that the men had been out of doors, they played creditable ball.

The high lights of the season were the St. Michael’s game, a no-hit game, the Springfield game, and the traditional Norwich game. In the first and second, "Art" Hingston hitched air-tight ball, and Bossert with the help of Lankes twirled a winning game against the strong Norwich club. The whole team was in a batting slump during the first part of the season, but ended the schedule with three out of four victories. For the most part, the fielding was none too good; inexperienced infielders gave the Panther pitchers plenty of worry; and by bunching well-directed hits, the foes were able to slide over victories.

The annual southern invasion was directed first at Springfield College on April 22, when the Midd men showed the lack of outdoor training to the tune of 1-7. With the exception of the fifth inning, it was a well-played game. Captain Novotny poled out both a triple and a homer.

Wesleyan next sounded our fielding ability with a final score of 10-3. With a late inning rally, the Connecticut club took the 3-2 lead away from our boys, and in two innings completed the circuit eight times. Osborn played a fine game behind the plate and his hitting was a feature of the game.

Amherst next took stock on the 24th, and to their advantage. More than Osborn’s homer was needed to turn the tide, and though both teams played good ball, the more experienced Amherst players had the edge, and finished the ninth with an 8 to 2 score.

Clarkson Tech played the first home game for the Midd men here on May 7. With hits about even, Clarkson was able by grouping them to take home a 5 to 3 score. Three home runs featured the day, with Hasseltine poling one out as the initial run of a late ninth inning rally that threatened to overwhelm the invaders.

The Blue and White next went to Williamstown to encounter the Purple on the 8th and lose a 14 to 5 game. "Frosty" Williams pitched a very loose game, allowing ten runs in two innings. Bossert was sent in to check the onslaught, and allowed only four more tallies. The Blue launched a rally in the fifth that netted five runs.
The Panther batsmen tried to shake off their losing streak to beat the traditional rival, Vermont, here on the 13th, only to sink deeper by errors and strikeouts. Captain Novotny was the only man to connect with the ball consistently. His homer in the third with Collins on base accounted for two runs. But with the odds of fourteen strikeouts against them, no team could be expected to overcome the 13 points of U. V. M.

The next day, the 14th, saw a repetition of the U. V. M. game with the strong Tufts outfit. The Jumbos staged a winning seventh inning rally that left the score 4 to 2 in their favor. Bossert pitched the whole game, holding the visitors to seven hits. This club was, perhaps, the strongest team the Midd men had faced, and had it not been for the poor fielding in the seventh, Tufts would have gone home with the small end of the score.

The 15th saw the first win of the season for the Panther batsmen, and a 5 to 1 scalp to their credit, the only no-hit game of the season, when St. Michael's was beaten. Hingston struck out seven of the Saints, while Connelly fanned eight of our men. The game was one of the tightest of the season, and it was due to the timely hitting and the strong defense that the Midd men were victorious.

Dartmouth played with our nine on their diamond at Hanover on May 18. In what looked like a practice with a scrub team, the big Green's all-around play easily featured and the Blue and White had to be content with the short end of a 17 to 4 score. Dartmouth found Bossert early and pounded his offerings with gusto; Simmons, who replaced him, had little less luck with the enemy slughers.

After the discouraging loss to the Dartmouth outfit, the Panther tried out the Eagles on their own hunting grounds on the 20th. Both Hingston and Simmons who replaced him in the third were freely hit for a total of 21 runs. The B. C. batsmen proved the slugging type, with three homers in one game; nevertheless, Midd was able to hit their offerings for three runs.

The third game of the southern invasion was dropped to Providence College, 9 to 1. Though Midd played good ball, an inability to hit with men on bases proved disastrous.

New Hampshire State next took Middlebury into camp in ten innings to the tune of 11 to 10. It was an evenly matched game. Simmons and Sorenson each poled out a homer while Captain Novotny slammed out two triples. Palmer at second handled nine chances without an error.

Middlebury lost to Vermont in the second game of the state series at Burlington to the tune of 4 to 1. Had it not been for the three runs allowed by Bossert in the first inning, it is a matter of surmise whose game it would have been. Hingston, taking Bossert's place at the mound late in the first, held the Catamount club to only one run. The rest of the game was literally a pitchers' duel, Fogg allowing two hits to Hingston's one.

Still in a batting slump, the team played the Massachusetts Aggies here the 28th. In the early innings of the game, M. A. C. piled up five runs at once, due to poor fielding, while the Midd men undertook a last minute rally but were unable to score more than four tallies to the final six of the Southerners.

The Springfield game will long be remembered by the Midd fans. The invaders tested us out here on the 29th, only to find themselves at the end of the twelfth inning with only two runs to their credit, and Midd the victor with three. The visitors tallied in the first and seventh, while we brought across two runs in the second. The game was a pitchers' battle, with Hingston sharing honors with Beach of the visitors, allowing only five hits each. In the last of the twelfth, with Marchukaitis on, and none out. “Bo” Willis drove a three bagger out into the open spaces, bringing in the necessary point.

Confident of their own ability, the Panther nine left home to play the Cadets on May 31. With the exception of a fourth inning rally in which six hits were clouted off the Panther offerings, the game was Middlebury’s throughout. Borsert pitched air-tight ball until the sixth, and Lankes, who replaced him on the mound, allowed only two hits. This 5 to 4 victory gave the team confidence.

But this confidence was short lived. The entire return game on our own diamond was a terrific batting attack upon our offerings; Norwich amassed a score of 15 to 3. Our errors, and home runs as well as three baggers by the visitors, spelled certain defeat for our sackmen. Midd’s best offering in the batting department was a good three-base hit in the sixth with none on.

Trailing in the rear up to the eighth inning, Middlebury won its last game of the season from St. Michael’s here on the 14th of June. The Midd men took full advantage of every break to stretch their six hits into seven runs as compared with the six runs and ten hits of the St. Michael’s outfit.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

EIGHT victories in seventeen games comprised Middlebury's basketball record for the season of 1926-1927. Coach Hargreaves' task of building a strong team out of untried material, and focusing that team around two letter men, was one not easily accomplished. The results of the season, however, demonstrate that he did his work well. Norwich was decisively trounced in both of the Cadet contests, to make Middlebury runner-up for the state title. Vermont took that title; but she found her victory none too easily won. One basket was actually the lead she held over the Panther; for had the game in McCullough gymnasium been tied, then the two colleges would have tied in their race for first honors. All in all, though, despite the fact that Vermont did make the necessary extra two points in that game, Middlebury's five was a very creditable team and well upheld the Blue and White.

Built from two letter men and a number of former Middlebury varsity men who had not received their sweaters, Midd's basketball five was a credit to the coaching of "Charley" Hargreaves. On the opening trip of the season, the annual invasion of New York state, Middlebury's team made its best showing in several seasons, defeating St. Stephen's at Annandale on December 17 by a 25 to 18 score, trouncing Upsala College of East Orange, N. J., on December 18 in a 29 to 16 contest, yielding to St. John's of Brooklyn the following Monday, 27 to 17, and barely losing to Brooklyn on Tuesday, December 21, by a 22 to 21 score. In all but the first game, the team each time seemed slow in finding the hoop, but as the final half drew on, opened up in its play to carry a series of baskets into the summaries. Not only did the Panther outscore its opponents 92 to 83 in these first four battles, but it also showed promise of future strength for the impending hard schedule.

Middlebury 25--St. Stephen's 18—When the varsity made its first appearance on the floor at Annandale, its potentialities were a matter of doubt to the coach as well as the players themselves. But with the humbling of St. Stephen's, Midd's five "found itself" and began a valiant attack on the York state basketeers.
St. Stephen's opened the scoring with a free throw; in the next few minutes of play Middlebury ran up a five point lead. From then on the ball was in St. Stephen's territory for the most of the time. Long shots by Sorenson saved the margin for the Panther when points were most needed in the last period, and St. Stephen's could not overcome Middlebury's new lead.

Middlebury 29---Upsala 16—On Saturday evening, Upsala College fell before the Blue and White's attack. For the entire first half Middlebury trailed the home team; but Captain Hasseltine's guarding held the scoring down markedly and with the close of the contest drawing on, the Panther started a rushing attack that swept Upsala before it. Within a very few minutes the score was first tied, then more than overbalanced. From the even break at 13 to 13, Middlebury scored 16 points more while Upsala could get but three.

Middlebury 17---St. John's 27—St. John's College of Brooklyn was another sort of opponent. A flashing floor attack and clever passing by the Yorkers made all of the Panther's attempts at victory futile. At the end of the first half St. John's led 18 to 6. The second half was undoubtedly Middlebury's, but the home team's great lead made a balancing of the books impossible.

Middlebury 21---Brooklyn Law 22—There was plenty of room for passing on the 27th Signal Corps Armory floor, where Middlebury barely lost to Brooklyn Law on December 21, by a one point margin. Middlebury had the advantage in point of passing; her fast floor work puzzled the home team. But as in the previous two games, Middlebury trailed the score at the end of the first half and was unable to overcome the lead set up by Brooklyn Law. The crowd of over a thousand spectators was thrilled more than once, however, before the final whistle sounded.

Middlebury 32---St. Michael's 21—Middlebury took her first home game 32 to 21 when she defeated St. Michael's College here on Saturday evening, January 8. The visitors opened the game with a rush that at first boded trouble for the Black Panther. But the steadying influence of Captain Hasseltine's guarding, and the floor work of Hendrix and Sorenson kept the score down until the first half drew to a close. Collins, ’28, and Roberts, ’27, went into the game at this point. Within half a minute “Luke” had dropped in a basket, the first of five which he made during the game. And by the time the second half was well along, Middlebury had nothing more to fear from her Winooski opponents.

Middlebury 22---Wesleyan 38—In the first of a three-game series played on a southern trip, Midd lost to Wesleyan by a 38 to 22 score at Middletown, Conn., on January 11. Wesleyan led at the end of the first half 24 to 8; but the Panther offense unwound somewhat as play progressed, and was creeping up on the victors when the final whistle sounded.

Middlebury 24---Trinity 31—The following evening, at Hartford, Midd again met defeat, but improvement over the previous evening's play was shown. Coach Hargreaves' five started with a rush, and by the end of the half was easily leading. But Trinity returned to the floor an apparently new team, and before Midd's defense could be organized, swept the game away with 26 points to our 14.
Middlebury 27—Providence 31—Only one basket and two fouls lost for the Black Panther the third of this southern trip series. Midd showed an aggressive offense and a careful defense with the opening of play, and though the lead shifted several times, held Providence 15 to 15 throughout the first half. In the decisive second half, however, the home five took advantage of the absence of Spooner and Sorenson from the line-up, and slipped an extra field goal and two free tosses into the summary, to win by four points.

Middlebury 26—Norwich 22—At Rutland the Panther five met the Norwich Cadets in the first of Middlebury’s contests for the state title, and through the stellar work of a freshman, Franzoni, defeated the visitors by a four point lead. The first half ended in an 8 to 8 clinch; it was early in the second period that Middlebury threw off her lethargy and stepped into the lead, to hold it throughout the remainder of the game.

Middlebury 18—Vermont 20—Inability to shoot free throws undoubtedly lost for Middlebury the hard-fought game with U. V. M., Wednesday night, February 9. The visitors, by overwhelmingly beating Norwich, came down with all counts in their favor. But though they took a quick lead, Captain Hasseltine’s scrappy five fought up to a tie, and during the closing minutes of the game were within a point of victory. Franzoni, Salduti, Humeston, and Johnson, all freshmen, showed up well in this gruelling test.

Middlebury 45—St. Michael’s 42—The return game with the Purple at Winooski was a loose basket-shooting mêlée, with the Panther coming out on the top of the pile. O’Brien of St. Michael’s with seven, Sorenson with six, and Palmer with four field goals each led in the battle of point-tossing. Middlebury was ahead at the end of the half, 23 to 16; but the Purple crept up slowly in the closing period, until with the last minute of play results depended on the crack of the gun.

Middlebury 21—Norwich 19—By holding a two-point lead over the Cadets throughout the evening, Middlebury made certain her claim to runner-up for the state championship when she met Norwich at Northfield on February 15. Palmer and Sorenson proved a battery a little too strong for the soldiers, though in Bedell the Panther encountered some stiff opposition. Middlebury led at the end of the first half by one field goal, and held that two-point margin throughout the last twenty minutes of play.

Middlebury 24—New Hampshire State 33—With Coach Hargreaves forced to be absent, Middlebury invaded Durham, N. H., on February 16, and despite a strong five-man defense encountered there, threatened throughout the first half to overwhelm the local five. But with the second half New Hampshire began to pile up points on her four-point lead, until the final whistle found the score nine tallies to her side of the books. The Panther displayed a remarkable team work in this game, meeting the fast New Hampshire State passing on equal footing until the closing few minutes.

Middlebury 20—St. Stephen’s 18—St. Stephen’s was just not quite able to make the necessary points after Collins had tied the score 18 to 18 as the final whistle sounded, and though the extra period made the game on the evening of February 22 one of the best Washington's birthday celebrations in McCullough gymnasium, the invaders were defeated by another basket from "Luke's" hands—a victory credited to Twenty-Eight.

Middlebury 16—Springfield 27—Springfield used two complete and equally strong teams in beating the Panther on February 26. Middlebury had put up a strong bid for honors in the first half; but the visitors' overwhelming superiority in fresh material enabled them to leap into a 13 to 6 lead. And with the second half, though at one time the score stood 16 to 14 with the Panther forging ahead, Springfield sent in three new players and galloped away with the score. Freshmen again showed up well for Middlebury.

Middlebury 19—Vermont 27—The Catamount cried long and loudly on the night of February 28, for on that evening Vermont took the state championship away from Middlebury. But for one brief period during the game the decision hung on the balance, and although the victors held a long lead at the close of the contest, the score by no means showed how hard fought the game was. Vermont's strength in long shots, and extra height her players had over Hasseltine's, gave her the needed push when she found herself unable to pierce the Middlebury defense. The first half was hers 14 to 10; the second half was a duplicate of that at Middlebury.

Middlebury 23—M. A. C. 17—In the season's last game, and that a home game, Middlebury came back once more and pinned a rousing defeat on an exceptionally strong five—the Massachusetts Aggies. M. A. C. contested the results bitterly. Franzoni barely edged in a basket to give the Panther the 11 to 9 decision at the close of the first half. A shift in Middlebury's line-up, however, proved a more efficient means of gathering points, and from then on the visitors were unable to threaten the final results. Captain Hasseltine celebrated his last varsity game by putting aside his usual stationary-guard type of play and tossing a basket, at a time when Middlebury's forwards were slowing up in their play.

ALTHOUGH obliged to start the season with only one of the 1925 letter men on the squad, Coach Brown built up a strong team which split even over the meets of the season. The powerful Massachusetts Agricultural College team fell by a 72 2/3 to 52 1/3 score, while the well-balanced Union aggregation nosed out the Panther men with 72.9 to 52.1. The clean sweep of the two distances gave them the needed points. Next Hamilton College tried the Panther’s mettle, only to lose 72 2/3 to 52 1/3 with Middlebury taking nine firsts. Two victories to their credit, the Panther men hoped to get the third and greatest, the state title. But Vermont cinched the meet by her firsts alone, and ended by taking ten firsts, 64 1/2 points, to Middlebury’s 31 and Norwich’s 21 1/2.

The two outstanding events of the Massachusetts Aggie meet were the 220 and the javelin throw. “Gilly” Smith, a freshman, romped away from the field in the former, slicing the college record to 22.7 seconds. “Doc” Eddy for the third successive year set another record in the javelin. His record heave was measured at 151 feet, 63 1/4 inches. Potter was the outstanding point-earner with 15 counts to his credit.
The summary:

440-yard Dash: Schappelle, M. A. C., first; Burrows, M., second; Arnold, M., third. Time: 54.8.

Javelin Throw: Eddy, M., first; Hinman, M., second; Jones, M. A. C., third. 153.6¼.

The second meet of the season was with Union College at Schenectady. Had it not been for the clean sweep which the executed in the 440, mile, and two mile, the outcome might have been different. Guil Smith again led the way in the century, only to lose by inches in the 220. Tiedman of the winners was formerly Middle Atlantic States champ in the hundred, and the loss of this event was a considerable upset, especially since Smith set a new college record of 10 seconds flat.

The summary:

Shot Put: Potter, M., first; McLaughlin, M., second; Skane, U., third. Time: 38.5.
Discus Throw: Skane, U., first; Hanson, U., second; Potter, M., third. Time: 110.4.

The third and last dual meet of the season was the Hamilton meet at Clinton, N. Y. This meet was featured by nine firsts by Middlebury, and a tie for another. Middlebury was easily supreme in the track events, losing only one first, the 220 low hurdles, for first counters. Smith again proved his mettle, taking both the hundred and two-twenty.

The summary:
880-yard Dash: Arnold, M., first; Oates, H., second; Abner, H., third. Time: 2.68.
Two Mile Run: Kelley, M., first; Robinson, M., second; Whiting, M., third. Time: 10.43.6.

Javelin Throw: Brockway, H., first; Eddy, M., second; Hinman, M., third. 139.

The last meet of the season, the Vermont state battle, was a disappointment to most of the sporting fans. What appeared to be an evenly matched meet before the first gun, turned out to be purely a Vermont day. The upstaters took 64 ½ points out of a possible 117, with Middlebury second with 31. This meet will long be remembered by both colleges, for eight new state records were set. Simpson, the Vermont captain, broke three records and in a fourth event secured a second place, making him high point man with 17 counters. Guil Smith again ran away with his field, breaking both the state 220 and 100 yard records. With eleven out of a possible fifteen of first places to the visitors’ credit, the meet can be seen to have been one sided.

THE KALEIDOSCOPE

The Harriers completed a very successful season this year with two out of three wins, and the state championship in cross-country was safe once again. The Williams distance men were the first to be outrun by the Midd men, taking home a score of 31 to 24. Adams of the Purple finished a pretty race to take first place, but Panther runners elected to keep together and finish that way. “Bus” Whiting, “Charlie” Arnold, Captain “Bill” Donald, veterans, and the speedy but inexperienced “Whitey” Witt raced a slippery five-and-one-half miles for a well-earned tie for second. “Flash” Butler proved his metal by following.
closely for fifth Midd man. Then the team met the well-balanced R. P. I. aggregation on their own course of six-and-one-half miles. Under conditions most unfavorable, the team ran through rain and slippery roads only to lose by a small score. Captain Donald and "Bus" Whiting ran second and third, just a short distance behind the first R. P. I. man. Then Vermont invaded our course, this time with a three-mile limit for the race, and was sent home to the tune of 30 to 25. "Bus" Whiting and "Charlie" Arnold ran together in a pretty race for second and third place, with Captain Donald, Stoughton, Butler, and Watson finishing close behind.

With all but Whiting and Stoughton back for the season of '27, the outlook for next year is very promising.

In what was probably the stiffest schedule the varsity tennis team has ever had to play, Middlebury came out on the upper side of the results, having won six games, tied one, and lost only three. On May 1 the team opened its season when it invaded Troy, N. Y., and defeated R. P. I. 4 to 2. Boston University proved a more stubborn opponent, and in the first home game on the Hepburn courts, beat Midd 5 to 1. But Vermont was humbled by a similar score on May 13, and though on the following day Tufts took a 5 to 1 set of matches from the Panther, Amherst, an equally strong team, was tied three-all on May 19. In an extra match at Middletown, May 20, Wesleyan defeated Middlebury 4 to 3. Then Captain Hickox’s mates settled down to business, and the last four games on the schedule were all won. Springfield was beaten 4 to 2 at Springfield on May 21, St. Stephens came here May 26 to be humbled 4 to 2, Vermont was beaten 5 to 1 at Burlington on May 28, and on May 31 the season was brought to a successful termination with a 4 to 2 defeat of Springfield on the Hepburn courts. With the exception of Hickox and Twitchell, the entire squad was left by graduation for another season.

On the evening of March 1 the Undergraduate Association voted to award major-letter sweaters to the seven men of the Panther Hockey team who, despite poor ice and injuries to their captain early in the season, won all six of the games played and incidentally took the state championship from Vermont and Norwich. Hamilton was beaten 6 to 3 on December 18, Providence was conquered in an over-time period 3 to 2 on January 15, Vermont was buried 5 to 1 at Burlington on February 2, M. A. C. was beaten 3 to 0 in the first local game, February 5, Vermont again was drubbed, this time 6 to 0 here, and in what proved to be the last game of the season, Norwich was beaten 2 to 1 on very soft ice.

In the 6 to 0 defeat of Vermont a team of second-string men, composed largely of freshmen and sophomores, demonstrated that for next season Middlebury will have as strong a sextet as she has had this year. "Joe" Finnigan, goalie, is the only member of the champion team to be lost by graduation.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

Coach Reigleman was faced with a serious problem at the very first practice of the yearling squad in the fall; for though he had a large number of men to choose from for an eleven, his backfield material was light and his line material inexperienced. Despite these handicaps, however, he worked hard with what he had—and St. Anselm's of Manchester, N. H., came to Porter Field October 16 to test the team in the first game. The visitors, with an extraordinarily heavy line-up, romped over the Panther cubs and piled up a 32 to 7 lead.

But neither the team nor the score could be compared to the Vermont-Midd Frosh game on Saturday, October 23, at Burlington, when the Blue and White eleven was buried beneath a 55 to 0 score. Vermont's squad was composed of material that was easily good for the varsity. New men constantly took their place on the field, equally as good as those for whom they substituted, while Midd had but few second-string players to replace the many injured. Cook was taken out with a fractured knee, Baranthaler was removed from the field unconscious, and Balkus suffered a fracture of the right shoulder. Yet the cubs struggled on against such one-sided odds. The game, aside from its psychological effect, nearly ruined the Freshman eleven because of the number of serious injuries resulting from it.

Yet after such an inauspicious opening, Middlebury 1930 rounded out its last two games with a flourish. Easthampton, Mass., was invaded on October 30, and only breaks gave victory to Williston. The Frosh completely outplayed their hosts, but a fumble in the third quarter and an intercepted pass in the last quarter gave Williston two touchdowns, and Midd could not cross the goal line. The cubs were working together, however, and though they lost, the ultimate results of the game were really encouraging.

Troy Conference, furnishing opposition for the fourth and last game, was defeated 14 to 3 on Porter Field, November 6. The visitors scored their field goal in the opening four minutes of play, and for a short time matters seemed dark for Middlebury. But the yearlings buckled down to hard work, and from then on Troy was practically at a loss to gain beyond the center of the field, while Midd pushed two touchdowns over and kicked both trys after goal. It was in this game that the Frosh backfield and line men first showed their real merits. Carlson, a “dark horse,” Franzoni, and McLeod proved good ground gainers, while Sun at center and Captain Huntington in the line were strong both on offense and defense.

Intramural Sports

Intramural athletics have been re-organized by the Physical Education Department under the direction of Coaches Brown and Klevenow and will now include fall, winter and spring sports. To the fraternity group obtaining the highest score for the year the Sages will award the loving cup formerly given to the winner of the basketball tourney. The cup will be given on a three-year basis as heretofore.

The program in detail is as follows:

FALL SPORTS

Tennis—Each group to enter a team of three singles. Play to be by elimination. Points awarded as follows: For entry, 25; first place, 50; second place, 25. Golf—Same as tennis except that in addition a medal will be awarded to the individual winner.

WINTER SPORTS

Basketball—Each team to play eight games. Points: Entry, 100; first place, 200; second place, 150; third place, 100; fourth place, 50. Handball—Each group to enter team of three. Play by elimination. Points: Entry, 25; first, 50; second, 25.

Winter Sports Carnival—Events: Four lap skating relay (four men), one lap dash (one man), four lap race (one man), 100-yard ski dash (two men), 100-yard ski obstacle (two men), 100-yard snowshoe dash (two men), 100-yard snowshoe obstacle dash (two men), and one-mile ski cross country (two men). Points: Entry, 25; first, 50; second, 40; third, 30; fourth, 20.

SPRING SPORTS

Baseball—Play by elimination. Points: Entry, 50; first, 150; second, 100; third, 75; fourth, 75. Track Carnival—Events: 100-yard dash, high jump, shot put, relay, half-mile. Points: Entry, 25; first, 50; second, 40; third, 30; fourth, 20.

MORE and more has the Women's Athletic Association become a lively organization on the north side of the hill. With widely varied types of athletic competition offered to every student, keener interest has been aroused, better playing witnessed, and above all the development of sportsmanship en masse. Miss Young has made it her most earnest endeavor to bring every girl out for some one sport, and in this respect intra-class competition has done a great deal towards appreciation of the value of athletics to every college girl, as contrasted with the old method of individual stars. In this line Middlebury has followed the program advocated by the Women's Division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation.

The Council has been instrumental in sending delegates to national conferences, namely, Adelma Hadley, '28, to the International Hockey Meet at Wellesley in the fall of 1926, and in the spring to the fifth national meeting of the Athletic Conference of American College Women at Cornell, also Lucile Norton, '27, to the Hockey Camp at Pocono, Penn., and Thelma Gates was W. A. A. representative at Camp Maqua.

The Association financed a toboggan slide on the hill north of Pearsons, but unfortunately bad weather prevented its being enjoyed to the full. The excellent lighting system on the skating rink was another W. A. A. project. The building and upkeep of both the slide and the rink have been due to the careful supervision of Mr. Weston.
Baseball

The freshman class, 1929, won the baseball championship very easily. The juniors and seniors had a joint team which offered the frosh their only close competition. Numerals were awarded to members of the championship team who were: Tudhope, Marchiano, Moore (captain), Manty, C. Ross, Sibley, Spalding, Amidon, and Gates. At the close of the season the All-Midd team was chosen.

Volley Ball

Much interest was shown last spring in volley ball. Class squads were formed and interclass games played. The final match between the Sophomores and Freshmen found the class of 1929 victors. This spring it is expected to have inter-class, intra-class and dormitory competition in this sport.

Tennis

The spring of 1926 witnessed the close of the tennis tournament in fine style. Florence Lockerby, '28, again became the college champion. In addition Miss Lockerby has since become women's singles champion of Vermont. The class champions were: Florence Smith, '26, Rachel Spear, '27, and Rose Marchiano, '29. The fall weather of 1927 prevented the playing off of all the semi-finals, but Myrtle Bachelder, '30, is expected to enter the finals this spring.

Hiking

Much interest has been indicated in hiking. A club has been formed which will be active during the winter as well as the fall and spring. Jessie Covert is head of hiking with the following as group leaders: Alice Brown, Marion Cruikshank, Emily Lobdell, Ellen Rowley, Gretchen Taylor. Weekly hikes are taken and worthwhile suggestions and talks on fire building, trail scouting, etc., given by the leaders.
Basketball

Basketball has always been the outstanding sport, and this year the season consisted of some mighty fine games. Two series of games between classes were played off, the seniors and sophomores each losing only one game. The sophomores' only defeat was at the hands of the seniors, and the latter had suffered likewise from the freshmen. The championship game was worthy of its name. The sophomores got the first tip-off and maintained a steady lead throughout the game, winning by a score of 45 to 19. The seniors played good ball but they could not bridge the gap in score. Ommalee Ohart was head of this sport. The champion sophomore team consisted of: Mary Tudhope (captain), Rose Marchiano, Mary-Alice Drake, Eloise Comtois, Sigrid Manty, Marjorie Sibley, and Irene Avery.

The game between the All-Midd and the second college team was well played, despite the lack of practice. The All-Midd team won 37 to 16.

The college houses challenged each other and games were played as follows: Weybridge and Music House vs. Wilcox and Hillside 26 to 23; Pearsons and Chateau vs. Hillcrest and Chateau 26 to 24.

A rally and basketball banquet is being planned, when all awards for the season will be made. This year has been a record-breaking one for the class of 1929 which has carried off all the honors.

Horse Riding

During the past few years horseback riding has been an enjoyable feature in connection with the regular gym classes, or independently. Beatrice Winch, '27, has been the instructor for two years.

Health Program Club

The Health Program Club was efficiently organized under Sylvia Westin, '29, as president the first semester, and Catherine Hodges the second. Between forty and fifty girls kept the program the first of the year, and about half that number continued the second semester. The rules include one hour exercise daily, the wearing of suitable shoes, a B average in posture, and no eating between meals, with an average of eight hours sleep a night.

Hockey

The hockey games at the time of publication of the Kaleidoscope were not all played off. The class of 1929 was well in the lead, however, having won all games played, and only one, against the freshmen, remaining. Rhoda Southall was director of this sport.

This publication, the humor magazine of the college, is the youngest on the campus, but its growth has been very rapid until it is now a popular publication at Middlebury. Although only four years old, the Blue Baboon is already a member of the Association of College Comics of the East. The Baboon is issued five times a year.

Waubanakee

Waubanakee, the honorary Senior society of the men's college, was established at Middlebury in 1911 to mark and reward those who have given of their time and ability to the service of their college, and have been the outstanding men of their class in the various college activities. The new members are chosen during the latter part of their Junior year. Within the past few years the society has been active in conducting athletic rallies, and promoting college activities in every way possible.

Next to the Student Government Association is the Young Women's Christian Association, which has done increasingly good work in its thirty-five years of existence. Besides the weekly meetings, at which discussions are held or speakers heard and the Big Sister plan, in which Student Government and the Y. W. C. A. cooperate in welcoming the freshmen, there are group interests fostered. Notable among these are the Rural Discussion group, which has not only been studying rural problems in theory but has adopted the public school in Ripton for its practical work, the Social Service Committee, which formed an outing club at the High School, and the World Fellowship Committee, which is again this year keeping a girl at school in Guadalajura, Mexico.

After capturing the championship of New England at the annual Intercollegiate Glee Club Contest at Boston on February 24, where M. I. T. and Wesleyan were among the competitors, the Glee Club under the direction of Professor Larsen and the managership of Professor Owen went to New York on March 12 to take fourth place, barely failing of third in the national contest. The Club, composed very largely of new memberships this season, was rounded into championship shape by the efforts of Professors Larsen and Owen. In its home concert in March it demonstrated the qualities which placed it above clubs of many larger institutions.

With almost the same membership as that with which it was revived last year, the College Band displayed a decided improvement over its very favorable appearance of last year. In concerts given away from home, particularly at Brandon and at Rutland, it showed a finish and proficiency which was a credit to the work of its director, Mr. Lechnyr.

The Band accompanied the football team to Williams as well as to Norwich this season; and on the field at Williamstown it was truly representative of the Black Panther and Middlebury spirit, easily playing down the enemy musicians. The Band also played at several rallies, basketball games, and is to play for the home baseball games.

A home concert wound up the winter's activities. James C. Thomson, '29, and Mr. Lechnyr were soloists.
Middlebury Christian Association

Arthur T. Brush, '29 ................. President
Hilton P. Bicknell, '27 ............ Vice-President
W Storrs Lee, '28 .................. Secretary-Treasurer

The Christian Association was organized in November, 1924, by a small group of men who believed that there was a real need for a Christian program on the Middlebury campus. Though competing constantly with an already overcrowded list of activities the Association has done remarkably well this year. A splendid series of talks by professors was arranged for the fall and winter. The Freshman Handbook was published. Deputations have been sent out from time to time to neighboring towns. In spite of such a great number of conflicting activities the Christian Association has shown itself to be an active organization and a very meritorious one. It is hoped that in time more of the students will become interested in the group and help to further its worthy cause.

PAUL WOLFSKEHL, JR., '27 ...............Treasurer

Wig and Pen is the directing body of the College Dramatic Club. It is also "English 13 and 14," an advanced course in play production by Professor Morse. To Wig and Pen, almost entirely composed of upperclassmen, are elected those who have shown unusual theatrical ability during the year or years preceding election. Besides 26 members of Wig and Pen in the year 1926-1927, is the large company of students forming the Dramatic Club, composed this year of 230 undergraduates. Each member signs up for one or more form of stage activity, the most popular being acting. Most of the plays are directed by members of Wig and Pen under the supervision of Professor Morse.

This year a number of original one-act plays, written in the English course, were given by members of this class. The first one was Edward P. Crane's "Delusion," produced February 10. On March 3, Blanche Walker's "The Closed Door," was presented, and on March 10, Paul Wolfskehl's "Blind." Besides these plays, Wig and Pen gave the first presentation of a "47 Workshop" play, "Heathenlike," and the first presentation in America of an ancient thirteenth century French mystery play, "Le Jeux de la Nativité Jesucrist," translated by Professor Morse. The four-act play, "The Lawless," written by Professor and Mrs. Morse in collaboration, was also presented for the first time by Wig and Pen. This last play was given by the entire play production class.

The equipment of the college Playhouse has been greatly increased this year, with the addition to it of a gray cloth cyclorama and more lighting facilities. The revival of "March Hares," by Mervin W. McCutcheon, '27, as a pre-season play, assisted materially in securing this new equipment.

December 14 and 15, 1926
Junior Week, Class of 1927

THE class of '27 presented Middlebury with an extremely successful Junior Week. Athletics, dramatics, dancing, and music all had a part in the carefully planned program. Fair weather permitted both a baseball game and a tennis match with U. V. M. the first afternoon. In the evening many couples found the college gymnasium a pleasant place to dance the hours away. The inter-fraternity stunts Friday morning were unusually entertaining and the prize number, a mock chapel service, was stirring as well as realistic. Another bit of college life was enjoyed that night in the gymnasium—the Junior Promenade.

The next day the Sophomores were caught in a severe shower issuing from a huge hose, as the Freshmen easily won the rope pull. Saturday afternoon and evening the Junior Play was very well given before an appreciative audience.

The age-old advice, "Make hay while the sun shines" was zealously followed as the class of '27 engineered one interesting event after another during the three days of festivity enjoyed not only by that class but by every person attending the events.

Junior Promenade

The Junior Promenade was held in the McCullough Gymnasium, Friday evening, May 14. Soft shadowy lights, attractive decorations, and bright-colored dresses, all combined with the irresistible music of the Cinderella Ballroom Orchestra to create a spirit of enthusiasm which lasted from the first strains of the Grand March until the small hours of the morning.

The chaperones were President and Mrs. Moody, Professor and Mrs. Haller, Mr. and Mrs. Shepardson, Dean Ross, and Mrs. Mason.
Junior Play, 1927

HONOR BRIGHT

The presentation of “Honor Bright” added one more to the list of successful Junior Week events. The cast acted with great skill, showing unusual individuality and finish. The major interest centered about Honor Bright and Richard Barrington. The Barringtons were a proud, conventional, stolid people. The fact that their only son, Richard, had become engaged to a chorus girl, Tot Marvel, had somewhat upset the family. The plot involves a prospective visit of the fiancée to the Barrington household. On Tot’s failure to arrive Richard, in his distress, persuades Honor Bright, a book agent, to take her place. Interesting complications arise when Tot herself appears and Richard finds himself in love, not with his former fiancée, but with Honor Bright.

The presentation of “Honor Bright” by the acting group of the class of ’27 has set a high standard for future classes to reach.

Tree Dedication ........................ J. Stuart Gruggel

Through the path formed by the daisy chain, the Junior marshals, Miriam Deedman and Mervin McCutcheon, escorted one hundred and thirty-nine Seniors to the lower campus where Class Day exercises were held. After an address of welcome by the President of the class, an interesting Class Day program was given the audience of parents and friends. President Paul D. Moody announced honors received by members of the class: Valedictory honors, William Bayley Grow and Harriet C. Minor; Salutatory, Dana Schoelch Hawthorne and Charlotte Raymond. Sixteen members of the class were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Twenty-five members of the class received their degrees cum laude, and two magna cum laude. High honors in various departments were given to eighteen members of the class, and honors to fifteen. Following the awarding of honors the dedication and planting of the class tree ended the program.

Senior Play

"QUALITY STREET"

One of the most difficult of Barrie's plays, "Quality Street," was the farewell presentation of the acting group of the Senior class. "Quality Street" is a play which would present difficulties to even a professional cast, but, nevertheless, it was admirably and daintily presented by this Senior amateur group. Miss Frost in the leading rôle was charming and was well supported by the intelligent acting of Mr. Clark. The supporting members of the cast deserve credit for their parts in a play of such literary and dramatic quality as this play of Barrie's. Although we may not see this group together again, we shall not forget the delightful presentations it has given us.

Senior Ball

Gayety and sorrow both had their place at the last social function given by the class of '26. The Cinderella Ballroom Orchestra aided the Seniors in making the evening a merry one in spite of the rainy weather and farewells to be said so soon. The Gymnasium had been the scene of many successful events of this class and the night of the Senior Ball it witnessed one more.

Senior Chapel Service

There was something sad and significant in the last chapel service of the class of '26. After dancing the night away the members came once more to the chapel on the hill that they might leave Middlebury after four years with the peace derived from the simple service and with the final handclasp and farewell of their classmates.
Freshman Frolic

Blinking Black Panthers gazed over a group of happy couples dancing away the memories of recent examinations. The dance was the Frosh Frolic of the class of 1930, and the evening, February 5, 1927. Happy Flint and his Black Panther Serenaders supplied the fascinating rhythm which enabled the couples to dodge the colored spotlights following them about the hall.

The Patrons and Patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Burrage, John G. Bowker, Prof. and Mrs. J. S. Kingsley, Miss Eleanor Ross, and Mrs. Maude O. Mason.

It was more than a dance, it was more than a dinner, it was both combined to give the guests of the Hepburn Servitors the jolliest evening imaginable. Colored streamers, balloons, and favors of all shapes and sizes added much to the merriment already produced by the Blue Revellers who furnished the music.

The Patrons and Patronesses were President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Dean and Mrs. E. J. Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz, Mrs. Mason, Miss Bowles, and Miss Dutten.

"Where Service Sells"
The handsome life guard floated lazily out into the cool, refreshing water, his eyes closed, his whole body relaxed and content. He suddenly felt a soft warm arm slide lovingly around his neck, and still another glide tenderly, caressingly over his sleek, black hair. His eyes remained closed. It was too perfect, too romantic to stir. Slowly another arm closed around his chest. Then he languidly opened his eyes to greet his lovely maiden of his dream.

"My God—an octopus!"—Satyr.
